The Canyon Recreation Council will sponsor a trip to the canyons for the boys of this section. The trip will start at the High School Saturday morning at 9:00 a. m. and return at 4:00 p. m.

Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch and all boys are invited to take part.

This is a special activity being held throughout the summer months by the recreation council. Skating is held each Monday night at the high school gym, square dancing Tuesday night for young people at Samuelson Hall, Children's Theatre Monday and Wednesday afternoons, starting July 23rd, and the three playgrounds which are attracting children in the mornings from 9 until 11 and in the afternoons from 3 until 6.

$100 Loss To Street Lights Every Night

Southwestern Public Service Co. is sustaining a loss of practically $100 per night by having street lights broken out by a roving band of boys who center their activities around the campus of West Texas State.

A few years ago the company sustained a similar loss of lights, and police protection was doubled until the boys were caught and punished for this destruction.

Parents of boys who are out late at night are warned to get these kids off the streets or suffer the consequence. Breaking street lights is a very costly kind of prank which these boys are engaged in during the hours that they roam the streets, seeking ways of doing mischief.

The Commissioners Court, sitting as a Board of Equalization, did not finish its work Monday. About 25 citizens appeared before the Board to ask about raises which the commissioners had made in equalizing taxes.

The court will meet again next Monday for the fourth Monday meeting of this body and for the purpose of completing its work of equalizing.

Insurance Men Are High in Praise of Canyon

Practically all claims for insurance have been adjusted in Canyon following the destructive hail storm which hit Canyon early in June.

Insurance agents state that the adjusters have been very complimentary of their reception in Canyon. There has been the best co-operation and least complaint in Canyon of any town in which these adjusters have worked, stated local agents who have worked with them during the post-hail period.

All of the extra work which has fallen upon local agents has been gratis, as a part of the service which these agents give to the people who carry insurance with them. There has been a tremendous amount of extra work imposed upon these local people, much more than people generally realize.

Miss Frances Wilroy On Short Visit to Home From Japan

Miss Frances Wilroy was in Canyon Saturday meeting former friends of the days when she served as Randall County Home Demonstration Agent from 1937 to 1944.

At the present time Miss Wilroy is employed as a buyer of Oriental Art Goods in Tokyo, Japan, for the Army PX store, which is one of the largest business institutions of the Japanese Islands. The average purchases of the PX runs approximately 2½ million dollars per month.

Miss Wilroy and many of the other employees of the PX are civilians, being paid for the services from the small profits which are realized from the sale of goods in the PX. Only American and United Nations personnel are allowed to buy in the PX, and each purchaser must hold an identification card.

During the time she has been employed in Japan Miss Wilroy saw General MacArthur only three times. He did not attend many of the state affairs which were held, but sent members of his staff as his representative.

Miss Wilroy was honored Friday with a tea in the home of Mrs. J. L. Witt, 1926 Harrison, in Amarillo.

The table was laid with a pine-apple linen cloth which Miss Wilroy had sent from Japan. Spring flowers made the setting for the occasion.

Mrs. J. C. Arden registered the 30 guests who called. Patricia Witt served punch, cookies and nuts.

Hunters, Fishermen, Landowners Urged To Attend Meeting

Continuing the policy inaugurated last year, the Texas Game and Fish Commission is once more holding a series of Public Meetings in the twenty-eight counties of the Panhandle over which it exercises regulatory jurisdiction. The purpose of the hearings is to permit landowners, sportsmen, and other interested persons to present their opinions on open seasons, bag limits, shooting hours, and other questions to representatives of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

The various opinions secured are then consolidated and presented to the Commission. To the extent compatible with the supplies of game on hand, as determined by Game and Fish Commission Biologists and Wardens, the Commission will be guided by the requests of landowners and sportsmen in making the actual regulations.

The meeting for Randall county will be held at the County Courthouse in Canyon on the night of July 19th at 8:00 o'clock. All hunters, fishermen, and landowners are urged to attend and participate in the discussion.

Rain Fell in City Saturday Night

A rain which measured .48 of an inch fell in Canyon Saturday night. Various parts of the county received a little more moisture. However, a good general rain over the county would be of great aid to the row crops.

Mrs. Florence Webster of Shreveport, Louisiana, accompanied by her two great grandchildren, Betty Van Grigsby and Vickie Grigsby and Mrs. Atelia Cargill visited in the J. M. White home Friday. Mrs. Erie Murphy left with them Saturday for a six weeks tour of Canada and the West Coast.

Dorothy Elizabeth Neblett returned Thursday from a two weeks visit with friends in Belton and Houston.

President James P. Cornette and Dean Walter Juniper Give Diplomas to First Air Graduates

Twenty four United States Airmen, the initial group to complete military clerical training at West Texas State College, were presented certificates last Friday morning in Cousins Hall by Dean Walter H. Juniper. West Texas President James P. Cornette addressed the graduating Airmen, praising their conduct while on the WT campus, and wishing them success in their new worldwide assignments with the United States Air Force.

This first group of Airmen arrived in Canyon last April to begin their training. They have attended three two-hour classes five days a week, for the past 12 weeks, with emphasis on typing, English, filing, records and reports, and military correspondence. In addition, they have performed their normal military duties of close order drill, inspections, reading of the articles of war, and attendance at training-film sessions.

As the original April contingent of Airmen received their degrees, more USAF flights were arriving on the West Texas campus. Currently, 14 groups, of 25 men each, are receiving a part of their specialized Air Force training at West Texas State College. Present contracts with the Air Force call for the processing of 27 groups, or approximately 675 Airmen, with the final group slated to complete their training and receive their certificates in January, 1952.

Doctor Lee L. Johnson, Head of the West Texas Business Administration Department, utilizes 14 West Texas teachers in instructing the Airmen. According to Dr. Johnson, the AF training schedules are timed to the minute, and must operate like clockwork.

Heading the Air Force Contingent at West Texas is Captain Adrian W. Buckingham, of San Antonio, Texas. The military designation of the group, incidentally, is the 3469th School Squadron. It operates at West Texas in Canyon, under the administration of Francis E. Warren Air Force Base, Wyoming. Assistant Captain Robert G. Mitchell, Squadron Adjutant, and Technical Sergeant Paul Freshour, Student Counselor.

Capt. Buckingham reports that the majority of his men attending West Texas are extremely well pleased with the school, the cafeteria, and their living quarters in Palo Duro and Tierra Blanca Halls. Local religious and social groups have sponsored a number of events for the Airmen, in an attempt to make their stay in Canyon a pleasant one.

The average educational level of the initial groups at West Texas was high, according to Capt. Buckingham, being equivalent to that of a student who has had a year and a half of college. Many of the Airmen had attended college, and their minimum level is that of a high school graduate.

Some of the men sent to West Texas State for their clerk-typist training are Texans, but almost every state in the Union is represented. Groups have come from Francis E. Warren A F Base, Wyoming; Shepard Field, Wichita Falls; Lackland A F Base, San Antonio; and Sampson A F Base, New York.

Shanklin Misses Plane Crash

J. Harold Shanklin, son of the late John W. and Mrs. Shanklin who lived in Canyon several years ago escaped by minutes the plane that crashed outside of Denver last week.

Harold has charge of the Government R. E. A. in New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona, and was attending a meeting in Salt Lake City. He had passage booked on the ill-fated plane but since the council ended sooner than expected he changed his plane reservation to an earlier plane and thus missed the crash. Five of the men with whom he had been conferring were killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Latimer, and Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Latimer, visited in their mother's home, Mrs. Maybelle Latimer of Matador.

Wheat Harvest Is Just About At End Locally

Harvest of wheat is just about over so far as Randall county is concerned. Wheat which the drouth, green bugs and cut worms did not get has been pretty badly beaten up by the hail. A few of the better crops of Randall county were in the path of the hail storms which swept across the country.

The loan values have been placed on wheat in storage elevators at $2.05½ per bushel; and $2.17 for farm storage.

Only about 45,000 bushels of wheat have so far been brought to the local elevator, all of which is being held at present. While some of this wheat is weedy, it can be re-cleaned for planting this fall.

Prospects for grain sorghums are fine for Randall county, provided there are a few rains during the summer and early fall.

"Kiss and Tell" Is Last Production for Palo Duro Players

"Kiss and Tell" is the last production of the Palo Duro Players. The play will be given July 25, 26, and 27 at 8:15 o'clock. This play is strictly a comedy and was a hit production on Broadway for eighteen months. The play concerns a typical American family with an army camp in their town.

The production is directed by Mrs. Margaret E. Moore and assisted by Mary R. Harrison of Amarillo.

Leading parts in the production are: Corliss Archer, played by Janet Harrison; Dexter Franklin, played by Jerry Williams; Harry Archer, played by Jerry McDonough; and Melba Rowlands as Janet Archer. "Rosy" Bates is playing a double role as Jimmy Airhart in the first two acts and Bob Pringle in the remainder of the play. Jimmy Airhart is 24 and Bob Pringle is 40 years of age. Other players are: Eugene Hill, Margaret Stevens, Odell Wilkes, Barbara Anderson, Dick Houston, Darlene Shadid, and Mary Helen Nixon.

Randall Cows Are Still Among the Top Producers

Randall County dairy herds which are in the Randall-Deaf Smith County D. H. I. A. are among the top producers of this group. There are 15 herds in the association, with 550 cows.

Joe Carver stood at the top of the three highest producing herds, with L. S. Johnston third.

Nine of the ten highest producing cows of the association were from Randall county.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Coddling of Reds Has Been the Weakness of the United States

The United States has coddled the Reds of Russia so long that we, as a nation, have become so afraid of the Reds that we quake in our boots every time old Joe Stalin yells "boo" at us.

Old Joe expects us to do just what we have been doing throughout the past six years, and so far he has never failed to guess right. He knew in advance just what we would do.

When America indicates that Uncle Sam is liable to get tough, Old Joe passed along the word that he is a very dear friend, and is willing to do the right thing. The right thing is always the wrong thing so far as Uncle Sam is concerned.

No one wants to send men into war. We would all prefer to see every American boy engaged in some kind of useful profession rather than to see him converted into a war machine. It is all right for those of us to cry out in anguish against the way Russia is acting, but few of those who are advocating that we do something about this situation are young enough to bear arms for their country. Probably there have been very few of the men killed in Korea who understood to the smallest degree why we were fighting over there, and why they had been called upon to bear arms. Yet the oldsters know that the Reds must be halted, or the youngsters will face something worse in the years that are to come.

Russia is unwilling to have peace, except at her own terms. She cannot be trusted.

From the time Russia sent her delegation to the United Nations opening session at San Francisco, until she forced United Nations delegates to walk into the "peace" camp of her own choosing in Korea, between Chinese and North Korean armed guards, the Reds have all but spit in our faces. We don't like the situation. The only thing left to do is get tough, and make it stick with a strong national defense program.

Scenery and Beauty Spots of Panhandle Should Be Stressed

A visitor in Canyon last week from the state of Michigan was highly impressed with the beauties of the Palo Duro Park. This man was accustomed to viewing the beauties of nature since his state is filled with beautiful woods and lakes.

He was a little dubious about going to Buffalo Lake. He lived not far from the Great Lakes, and was accustomed to seeing hundreds of beautiful lakes. "Just what like a buffalo wallow is Buffalo Wallow," the visitor asked.

Once he had viewed the wonderful expanse of water, and when it was explained that the lake grew from a little stream of water which the average man could jump across, he was highly impressed.

Hundreds of fishermen lined the banks as he viewed the lake, and boats cavorted over the smooth surface.

It was explained that Senator Tom Connally on his first visit to Buffalo Lake remarked that this body of water was "Some lake in any man's country." The visitor agreed.

While the Panhandle looks about as drab just now as it would possibly look, due to the battered up condition of the trees; lack of gardens and flowers; and the missing wheat, yet we have a lot of things to show the visitors.

One thing that was missing for the visitor. He expected to see cow punchers with six shooters buckled to their belts. Instead of that he viewed prosperous small farms and dairy cows.

When you have a visitor from a distance, be sure to show him the sights, and do not fail to brag — a little — about the wonders of the Panhandle.

Iran wants to get the oil properties of foreigners without much cost—evidently not believing in individual initiative and private enterprise.

There is something to be said for the good old days when neighbors shared their fruits and vegetables, their joys and their sorrows.

Political and economic freedom are valuable but without freedom of thought and religion, men and women are still slaves.

Nothing is more disconcerting than to listen to an "expert" who doesn't know that you are a more highly-informed expert.

The people of this country will find that freedom, like peace, has its price and it cannot be paid in coin of the realm.

The economy of the nation cannot be based upon the effect to insure profits for marginal producers.

The man who always works to get something for nothing winds up without enough nothing.

It is comparatively easy to find an excuse for not doing what you do not wish to do.

There is no quick method of making the uncertain certain, so learn to be patient.

President Says He Is Fit For a "Good Foot Race"

President Truman says that he is physically fit for another good race. He smiled when he added, "A good foot race."

Let it be remembered that the President has said not a single word as to whether or not he will make the race for re-election in 1952. It has been freely PREDICTED both ways — that he would run, and that he would not run again.

Mrs. Truman has let it be known that she is opposed to Harry seeking another term. Maybe that is just some more keen political propaganda, put out for the purpose of deceiving the people.

The idea that the President is physically keen for another good race—foot race, that is—may be just another scheme of the President's to crystallize sentiment in his favor. He became famous in 1948 for his whistle stop campaign which may be a "foot race."

While the nominating convention will be only 11 months off, so far the President has kept his political aspirations strictly to himself. There is no use kidding anyone; the President likes his job, and will seek re-election if he thinks he can win. So far he hears only the words and advice that he wants to hear.

You know you never kick a Missouri mule unless you feel pretty sure that the mule will not kick back. The President has 18 months more in the White House, regardless of the outcome of the 1952 election.

Flying Boat Is Owned by We, The People, Tunc 13 Million

During World War II you read a lot about the huge flying boat which Howard Hughes was building for the government out on the coast of California. It was reported that Elliott Roosevelt induced FDR to finance the deal. At least we, the people, were out $15,000,000 in building the flying boat, which was made of ply wood and was to be used for radar purposes.

RFC, which means, we the people, own the boat now, the government having taken the venture over. We are told that the government is still pouring huge sums of money into the flying boat, which will fly in spite of all of the engineering predictions that no one could get it into the air.

Perhaps this is the small amount of money to spend, but let it be remembered that the government has no money of its own. All of the money which the government spends must come out of your pockets. We, the people, pay the bill, whether the money is wasted or spent wisely.

Professional Baseball and Football an Inticing Field

The Panhandle is not a baseball country. Schools cannot engage in baseball very successfully because of the adverse weather which prohibits the game from being played in the early spring months. As a matter of fact the Panhandle has just about two seasons — winter and summer. It is too cold for baseball at the time baseball should be played.

However, there is a fine field for professional baseball players in every section of the USA. The leagues, big and little, are constantly on the lookout for professional players. The field is a profitable one, with good pay during 8 or 9 months of the season, and a pleasant vacation during the winter.

On the other hand, professional football has become one of the great drawing cards for youth. We have never seen a professional football game, and have little desire to sit through one. The game lacks a lot of having the appeal that has made football in high schools and colleges the greatest game on earth. The professionals are more anxious to see that they are not physically injured than they are in promoting the spirit of the game.

If you have something to do "one of these days," you might as well get busy and do it or you won't have time to do it.

Almost any profiteer knows how to turn the attention of the public to creeping socialism, radicalism and communism.

The question yet to be determined in some European countries is whether they will fight against Russian domination.

FREE SPEECH?

A Georgian who asked the Department of Agriculture for advice on fertilizers says he got five conflicting sets of suggestions. In what other country can the farmer say this?

Good manners is the art of making those people easy with whom we converse. —Jonathan Swift.

It is being taken for granted in the British Foreign office in London that a truce in Korea will knock the props out from under U. S. ideas for a total trade embargo against Communist China.

THE AMERICAN WAY.

*Quoted from the "Dictionary of Foreign Words" issued by the Soviet Government.

"The Fool Hath Said In His Heart,
There Is No God" Psalms 53:1

A dramatic story was uncovered when I was going through old clippings and papers in the Waxahachie library.

Soon after the Civil War, there was a man living near Waxahachie who was reputed to be exacting in his dealings. He was supposed to be very wealthy. This man had a falling-out with a Negro, an ex-slave. This Negro and another were found, one night, digging a hole on the wealthy man's land. They were arrested and charged with planning to kill the man and with preparing a place, in advance, in which to hide the body.

The second colored man confessed that this was the plan. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to hang. The judge asked, "Is there anything you wish to say?" The prisoner, young and, uneducated arose and, in a respectful tone, replied:

"Yes, Yoah Honah, I wants to say somethin' fer the benefit ob the young folks. Boys and girls, always tell the truth. Never tell a lie even if folks wants you to. "We wuzn't gwine to kill nobody. We thought that the white man had gold buried on his place an' we wuz huntin' it. We wuz diggin' at night so's, effen we found it, we could keep it. An' dat's de truth. "I know it's too late to do me any good but I want the young folks to remember — never tell a lie."

The prosecuting attorney said, "Your Honor, I believe he is telling the truth." The judge said, "I agree with you." So the verdict was set aside and the prisoner was given his liberty.

He became a preacher and was a strong influence for good among his people. He lived for many years, respected by everyone, and all mourned his death.

Can you remember "ox - blood shoes?"

"A baker's dozen" was an expression which used to be heard often. It meant "thirteen" — one over for good measure. But you never hear (or see) "a baker's dozen" any more.

This country's military leaders are not at all happy about taking the initiative in seeking a deal with China's Communists for a truce in Korea. They do not relish the resulting impression that it is they, not Communist generals, who are suing for peace.

Important diplomats say privately that they are more worried now than for years over the world outlook. Their view is that Western nations, in eagerness for peace, will make settlements that give Communists big new gains that will strengthen their later position.

Premier Stalin, for Russia, after a prolonged period of troublemaking and pressure, is ready now to do some bargaining. Stalin's idea is to rake in some new rewards in return for what will seem to be a promise to be good and to permit the Western world to enjoy some quiet.

Principal of High School Has Full Round of Duties

James E. Miller, principal of the Canyon high school, made a vocational talk at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on the duties of his office in the public schools.

"Your high school principal in Canyon must be a 'jack of all trades,'" stated Mr. Miller. While the duties in no two schools are the same, the principal in Canyon has varied interests.

Before the close of school, the students are asked of their choice of subjects for the coming year. These are carefully screened, and classes offered in as many subjects which are selected as finances will permit.

Pupils from the 7th grade are carefully interviewed for the purpose of properly indoctrinating them in their work for high school. Conferences are held between the pupils and teachers, and oftentimes the parents.

Classifying the students on the basis of credits earned is no small job which requires careful attention. Parents are often over-ambitious for their children and attempt to direct their choice of the future. Each child should be allowed to make his own choice of his future vocation.

Mr. Miller believes that high grades are not absolutely important as the spirit of the child in doing his best according to his ability.

Keeping good permanent records is another duty which the principal must do. Last year Miller was called upon to furnish the transcript of a man who had attended the Canyon school 44 years ago.

The principal is responsible for all school assemblies, and assists in planning the programs.

The principal is at the head of all athletic activities and contests. He is likewise coordinator between school and public functions. There were 87 public events held in the Canyon school buildings last year, all of which were checked by the principal.

In addition, the principal is the supervisor of teachers, pupils, classes, must attend to disciplinary jobs, represent the school in public functions, as well as perform his duties in his church and his community.

"Being high school principal is a full time job, but is filled with joy in watching the children grow and develop into men and women," concluded Miller.

Visitors were: Wayne Wirt, member of the U. S. Navy, home on leave; Bert Masters and Dr. Dudley Moore of Canyon; G. E. Patrick of Ft. Worth; J. E. Landglad, Spencer L. Baird, Tom Cartwright, E. Kan-cher, Swede Tolzein, Floyd A. Hemphill, all of Amarillo; Howard W. Amick of Panhandle; John H. Patton of Hereford; Bert Prothero of Plainview; Stoney Wall of Lubbock; Robert S. Pine of Hancock, N. Y.

Secretary Cliff Milnar reported that 18 members had perfect attendance during the past six months. Dr. J. A. Hill recommended that those who attended more than the usual weekly meetings be given credit for their actions.

Methodist Picnic, Outdoor Service Sunday, July 22

The Annual Methodist Outdoor Service and Picnic will be held Sunday evening, July 22, meeting at the church at 3:00 p. m.

There will be transportation for persons wanting to go who do not have that facility.

There will be a basket supper, each family bringing their meal. The Murray Class is responsible for the serving and Men's Fellowship Class furnishing the drinks. The evening service will begin at sundown. Every Methodist person is invited to attend this annual affair.

Miss M. Moss Richardson has just returned from visits to Illinois; Washington, D. C.; New York City; Ottawa, Canada; and Bryansville, Kentucky. She went with her niece and her niece's daughter from Paris, Texas. She reports that she is refreshed and rested from a 4,600 mile trip by private conveyance. She also saw Niagara Falls and she says nothing is so good as the Panhandle Plains.

Mrs. Milton Dooley and daughter, Ava, just returned from Newark, N. J., and New York City, where they visited their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robins and Cathy. On their way home they visited Mrs. Dooley's brother-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dooley in Berryville, Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shackelford and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bray and Ronald of Turkey, visited in the R. A. Smith home Sunday. Mr. Smith is pharmacist at The Pharmacy.

Wonders of GOD and NATURE

WHAT the lovely tree and the dashing waterfall and the cloud-flecked sky say to us depends much on the creative mood and the inner interest of our minds and hearts. "The heavens declare the glory of God" only to those who are reverent and believing. What we bring of inner beauty will determine the ministry of external beauty.

THE house builder in us will look upon a majestic Douglass Fir and see in it lumber feet for the construction of homes and barns and business structures and churches. The botanist will look upon the varied glory of the natural world to classify leaf and petal and root. The artist is carried away with symmetry and color and light and shade that ravish a sensitive soul. The child of God hears the woods and the sky and the falling streams as they shout, "God made us, and we are serving His creative purpose. Join us in praising and worshipping our Creator. Come with us to Church."

IN EACH of us is something of the practical business man and of the lover of nature and of the artist and of the worshipper. Which of them shall we make dominant as we look upon this beauty today? Which side of our nature shall we cultivate for rich and abundant living? We are hand and eye and mind and spirit, and, of them all, we were intended to be primarily spiritual children of God. Let's bow today, before our God who is truth and goodness, but also Beauty. Let's be beautiful in our spirits through this day, that we may be members of the Family of our God.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

"I AM AN AMERICAN" MEANS

When you have a child in the cuddly, crawling stage, you have the perfect reason for installing an automatic electric water heater—the safest water heater made. Your child can crawl right up to the water heater, pull itself up by holding on to its spotlessly clean sides, wrap its arms around the water heater and be perfectly safe, thanks to the complete insulation and no-flame features of an electric water heater.

These same features make an electric water heater equally safe for you, too. There's no fear of gusty winds blowing out a flame—there's no flame. There's no waste heat, either, because only an electric water heater is completely insulated so that all the heat goes into the job to be done.

Reddy Kilowatt's special water heating rate makes electric water heating economical, too. For plenty of hot water always, safely, economically, see your electric appliance dealer now.

Children's Theatre Production Success

The first presentation of the summer group of the Canyon Children's Theatre was enthusiastically received by an audience of two hundred parents and friends Wednesday night, July 11, in the Education Building Auditorium.

Opening the program of three scenes was a delightful piece of make-believe world as seen in "Snow White." Barbara Shepherd was the beautiful raven haired princess who found her way to the home of the seven little dwarfs.

In a setting of seven small beds, a small table set with a dwarf-sized meal, and huge rain barrel, all made and painted by the children themselves, the seven dwarfs, Harold Knight, Richard Godfrey, James Johnston, Ronnie Shepherd, Gary Shepherd, Steve Greiner, and Bobby Haggard seemed quite at home. Directing this scene was Miss Frances Shure.

Raymond Driskell and Ann Godfrey brought Tom Sawyer and Becky Thatcher alive in the two scenes from "Tom Sawyer." The school-room scene, directed by Mrs. Claud Zearly, was dominated by the ill-tempered schoolmistress, Frances Boyd. What trials she had with her lively pupils — Jane Steed, Max Rene, Mikala Paville, Suzanne Lemons, Virginia Harris, Buddy Smith, Jim Brown, Ocoee Johnson, Judy Wilson, Judy Roberts, Robin Hood, Nedra Panning, Nancy Cleavinger, Susie Kieselbach, Janet Reed, and Neal Lemons.

It was difficult for the audience to be properly sad at the boys' funeral during the very amusing funeral oration by Parson Brown, as played by Jim Thomas. Also seen in the scene were Christina Sikes, Donald Driskell, Margaret Lee Johnson, John Duncan, Max Rene, Buddy Smith, Vaneece Osborne, Jo Reinhart, Jane Jarrett, Gary Shepherd, Norma Harvey, Billie Jean Stroehle, Ginna Sue Bain, Jim Brown, Ross Pant, Ann Jarrett, Judy Roberts, Judy Wilson, Susie Kieselbach, Nancy Cleavinger, Raymond Driskell, and Ann Godfrey. ## War Economy Prevails in America Today

To point to the obvious, this country, in company with most of the allegedly civilized world, is living on a war economy. Today's tremendous national income and "prosperity" is to a very great extent the direct result of wars—past, present, and potential.

"One year after Korea, the U. S. finds itself well along the road to the garrison state," said Business Week in one of its June issues. "Military buying now is the biggest single force in the economy."

"Between June, 1950, and this June, deliveries of military goods have doubled. In the coming year, they are due to double again. Toward the end of 1952, or possibly the first quarter of 1953, they will reach the maximum demanded by present mobilization plans. By then the U. S. will be channeling 20 per cent of its national output into defense and defense-supporting production."

The effects of rearmament naturally vary greatly from industry to industry. In some fields, such as electronics devices, military orders are taking most of the output now and in time may take virtually all of it. The aircraft industry is 95 per cent devoted to defense work. And, of course, a very high percentage of metals—steel, copper, nickel—are going for military and allied uses, and the proportion is due to continue to rise.

As Business Week puts it, "Even though military orders are fitting fairly smoothly into the economy, they are putting a strain on manpower and materials supplies. The big complaint of defense contractors all over the country is: We can't get an even flow of materials, and we can't get the workers we need to process the materials we do have." The magazine quotes one St. Louis manufacturer as saying that, in spite of his defense order priorities, he had to buy materials in the black market. It quotes a West Coast producer as complaining, "You can get people all right, but not workers. They haven't any skills; they haven't any interest. They just stand there." This manpower problem, in all probability, will be the toughest nut to crack in the long run. It is estimated that by the end of the current year about 8,000,000 civilians will be needed in defense jobs. A very substantial part of them will have to leave work in what is considered nonessential enterprise and move into the essential industries.

However, few think that severe civilian shortages will develop, save in a few specialized lines, unless a big war comes along. The belief is that American productivity can handle the defense load and the normal civilian load at the same time. Many kinds of goods are actually in surplus supply now, as the recent price wars in New York and other cities demonstrated. Those wars were largely the consequence of excessively large inventories—consumer buying hadn't been as great as had been anticipated. So, when the Supreme Court knocked the Fair Trade laws on the head, dealers began unloading at prices people would pay.

At any rate, the sad fact is that war is again dominating our whole economy. Military buying is now running at the rate of $26,000,000,000 a year. It will rise swiftly and sharply.

Combat officers have not been happy about treating for peace in Communist territory, surrounded by armed Communists, while forced to move only behind white flags. The atmosphere of surrender was difficult for American military men to swallow, after fighting a successful war.

President Truman is not too pleased that he had to accept the formula of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for a military armistice arranged in the field, only with U. S. in the position of suing for peace under field conditions laid down by the Communists, instead of with U. S. calling the tune for Communists, as the MacArthur plan called for.

Deaf Smith County Electric Co-operative Inc. Has Outstanding Record

NEW MODERN HOME OF ELECTRIC CO-OP

No review of the agricultural interests of this section would be complete without mention of Deaf Smith County Electric Co-operative Association whose offices are in Hereford at Highway 60 at Whittier. This aggressive R. E. A. Co-operative serves Deaf Smith, Castro, and Farmer Counties and has a few members in Randall. It would be hard indeed to imagine, in these modern times, going back to the days when our farms and ranches were without the conveniences of electric lights and power.

Since the inception of Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op, the constant aim of its officers, directors and management has been to render the best service at a minimum cost. In this effort they have been highly successful and because of the tireless efforts of those in charge, we have a model electric co-operative association whose methods and policies have been studied by other similar associations with the view of improving their service.

As another step in continuing their program of service to members, in March of 1951 they employed an electrification advisor, Mr. A. T. Ford, whose main purpose is to assist the members with the various problems which arise with their ever increasing uses of electricity.

T. E. Seigler, Jr., President; Sloan H. Osborn, Vice President; H. H. Miller, Secretary; G. T. Watkins, Dewey L. Wright, Tom Draper, and Joe Birkenfeld, Directors; and Leo Forrest, manager of Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op are to be complimented for the good job they have done in building the association to its present high level. These men are rendering a real service to the community and we are glad in this review edition of our paper to point to them with pride — they have always co-operated with every worthwhile movement that would better our rich area.

Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op furnishes more power for irrigation purposes than any other similar association in West Texas, thus saving a considerable sum in power costs to our irrigation farmers to say nothing of the many other uses and conveniences their lines afford our area and we hope for this outstanding organization, its officers, directors and manager continued success and greater achievements in the years to come.

Good Used Cars at C. E. Neel's

There is no gamble in buying a used car if careful consideration is given to the reputation of the company from which the purchase is to be made. The prospective purchaser should take every precaution in order to assure himself that the firm he is dealing with has a background of experience in the business and a record for fair and honest business transactions. In this respect we are able without hesitation to recommend NEEL'S USED CAR LOT located in Amarillo at 205 Buchanan Street and operated by C. E. Neel.

This prominent Amarillo used car dealer has directed every effort towards satisfying the many customers and friends who have elected to make their trades and purchases through this used car lot, with the result that complete satisfaction has followed.

A reputation for absolute dependability has been the goal towards which managing owner C. E. Neel has strived. That he has been eminently successful in his chosen field is evidenced by the fact that NEEL'S CAR LOT has become "used car headquarters" throughout the greater Amarillo area.

It is appropriate therefore that we pay tribute to C. E. Neel for the conduct of his business and to wish for him many years of continuous successful operation.

Pamphlet on Texas Is Being Used as Internation Basis

AUSTIN: A recent request by an Englishman for conservation education material indicates the range of data prepared and distributed by the Texas Game, Fish & Oyster Commission.

The man, writing from London, said he had seen a Commission pamphlet, complimented the author and asked for more such information.

The Director of Publications for the Commission, who has built up the resource-use education program, said the international phase was further pointed up recently when Ira Gabrielson, former chief of the Federal Wildlife Service, got 20 packets for distribution abroad.

The emphasis at home, on this revival of interest in basic subjects dealing with the soil and wildlife, is centered this summer on some 30 workshops being conducted on the college level. These projects prepare teachers to carry back to the school rooms the urgent message of conservation.

In addition, churches, clubs and assorted groups are joining the Texas conservation movement, according to the Publications Director. The Methodist Church in Texas was first to use the educational data in its summer camps. Other denominations now are using these materials.

The Director of Publications said the material is not being restricted to science classes but is being used in studies of art and English and the like. It also is part of the curriculum in veterans schools. Scouts are using it and so are groups such as Future Farmers.

Teachers of speech classes find the nature phases stimulate children to talk. The same quality has impressed University of Texas Extension staffers striving to aid Latin-Americans to learn the language of their adopted country.

SMART FIDO

Marion, Ill. — Answering a signal, a telephone operator asked, "Number, please?" and all she heard was "Woof, woof." Finally, she had the sheriff listen and the telephone woofed back at him, too. The sheriff drove to the telephone's location—a garage—and found it locked. Inside was a bird dog beside the telephone, which it had apparently knocked from a table. The sheriff called the owner, who unlocked the dog.

Newport News, Va. — A small twister which recently visited the farm of Mrs. P. A. White, demolished a garage in which a truck was parked but left the truck practically untouched. ## Farmers Depend On Stocking a complete line of fertilizers, the very highest quality seeds, including field and pasture grass seed (for both irrigated and non-irrigated land), also agricultural chemicals, insecticides and fungicides that will effectively control insects and diseases of your crops, trees, shrubs and other plants, Howard Gault Warehouse, 108 S. Sampson in Hereford has established itself in this territory for its quality lines and superior service.

This aggressive concern maintains a Field Service and invites farmers and ranchers who may have spraying problems, to consult them — their field man will call on them and his wide experience and technical knowledge is yours without obligation. He will recommend the proper chemicals and sprays whether it be for cotton insects, cutworms, green bugs, weed killers, livestock pests or any other type of insect or disease. With the bug and weed season here it is wise to act quickly — delay is costly and by the use of the proper sprays and insecticides you will prevent loss and increase your profits, also, place orders now because a serious depletion of farm chemicals is anticipated before insect control season is over.

The Howard Gault Warehouse, as we all know, has established itself as potato headquarters and are now handling a large share of the present bumper crop to the entire satisfaction of the potato growers.

We are indeed fortunate in having such a concern as the Howard Gault Warehouse to depend upon for high quality seeds of all kind, every type of fertilizer and such a complete line of farm chemicals and insecticides. It is little wonder that they have built such a large business and we recommend them to our many readers and wish them continued success in the future.

Politicians are intrigued by the fact that President Truman was willing to answer a question about the political future of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and to make it clear that the General in 1948 did not bind himself not to accept a nomination in 1952. Politicians wondered whether the President was inviting Eisenhower to show interest in a Democratic nomination.

Third Nation's Income Will Go To Pay Taxes

Many years ago, the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said that he found pleasure in paying his taxes. "With this I buy civilization," he observed.

We live in a very different kind of age today. Less and less of our tax money goes to buy those goods and services which make for true civilization. More and more of it goes to buy the implements of war, old and new, which, if ever unleashed in their full fury, may very well destroy civilization itself.

In the world of the present, this is an unavoidable tragedy. But that tragedy is needlessly compounded by the ever-increasing spending of the people's money for purposes and projects which have no bearing on the national defense and security, which are unnecessary and avoidable, which weaken our institutions and undermine our liberties, and which, finally, tend to destroy our savings by creating more inflation and cheaper dollars.

The leaders of our government tell us that we must pay more taxes in the name of national survival—that all must "sacrifice." But—save for a handful of honorable exceptions to a sorry rule—none of them say that the government too must "sacrifice," by eliminating every expenditure which is not clearly and directly essential. They tell us that the "business as usual" philosophy must be abandoned. But what about the infinitely more dangerous "politics as usual" philosophy?

During this new fiscal year, Federal, state and local spending will account for about one-third of the national income. And still the staggering waste goes on.

Public Must Aid Officials Maintain Good Eating Places

The Texas State Department of Health cannot maintain daily inspection of all eating places and the public is urged by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer to insist on the proper sanitation of the establishment where they eat. If the public is careless in this respect the incentive to maintain clean food service will be lessened and operators will only maintain the level the public is willing to accept. He urged that the public patronize "eating establishments which measure up to a high standard of cleanliness."

The State Health Department is making every effort to improve sanitation of eating places, Dr. Cox said, and there is "no excuse for cafe owners not taking advantage of the food handlers schools which are being offered all over the state." He added that there are laws, rules and regulations which require the use of approved equipment and methods in such establishments.

"The public should be aware of these sanitary rules and regulations and insist that restaurants observe them. Patrons should realize that tables and counters will be many times cleaner than the kitchen and other places out of sight," he warned.

He urged milk appraisal by the patrons also. Texas law requires that a milk bottle cap state the grade of milk, and whether it is raw or pasteurized. "Insist on having the milk served in its original container, with a covered cap and a legal label," Dr. Cox advised. "Obviously," he said, "the best in sanitation can be had only by close co-operation between the public and the investigators of the State Health Department."

Tests appear to prove that greatest destruction for big cities will come from underground explosions of atomic bombs, not air bursts of the past.

Free Medical Service Badly Exaggerated

"The answer to the problem of medical care will not be found in any political panacea or through the development of a super bureaucracy. The answer to the problem will be neither simple nor easy, but it will be found within the framework of our present economic system and our present constitutional safeguard."

That wasn't said by a spokesman for the medical fraternity. Instead, it was recently said by one of the most aggressive labor leaders in the country—Dave Beck, Executive Vice President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. He then added, "The answer as proposed by advocates of government-controlled medicine is contrary to our economic structure and goes beyond our traditional guarantees. Any system which proposes such modifications in our way of living and doing things would lead to a dangerous socialistic trend and cannot be tolerated. Such a system would destroy our liberty."

It is often argued that those who oppose socialized or government-dominated medicine are sinister representatives of special interests, who have no concern for the problems of the "common man." That certainly doesn't apply to Dave Beck, who fights hard for what he considers the rights of labor. But, in company with a growing number of other labor leaders, he knows that socialism destroys free labor just as it destroys free enterprise.

Mr. Beck pointed out, with complete accuracy, that much is being done to solve the medical care program—and it is being done voluntarily. His final sentences should be read and remembered by all of us: "I say that we have built this great nation through individual initiative and intelligence. . . . Let us never make the mistake of socializing the medical profession. We have been born as a great people and we will continue to thrive as a great people only under a system of free enterprise—free for the business man, free for labor, free for the doctors and free for all of our people."

When a Scottish barber was engaging a new assistant he pointed out:

"I pay lower wages in the summer because the work's lighter."

"But surely people get their hair cut quite as often, if not oftener in the summer than in the winter?" protested the applicant for the job.

"Ay," agreed the barber, "but you dinna' ha'e help them on w' their overcoat."

Old Trading Post Is Now Chicago's Trading Center

CHICAGO, Ill.—The Indians of 100 years ago noted that the present site of Chicago consisted of three major factors—a big smell, a portage point, and a trading post.

Today, everything has become bigger and supposedly better. The pungent wild onions of yesteryear are violets compared to the stockyards on a hot breezy day. The canoes, which once were carried across the swampy strip, have given way to gliding freighters, and the log cabin now has been parlayed into the gleaming Merchandise Mart, the world's largest commercial structure.

According to research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, the huge 20-year old Mart, affectionately dubbed "the limestone tepee," lays claim to being the greatest single force for merchandising in the world, and has been recognized as the world's biggest buying center.

An estimate of the Mart's commercial importance is found in the fact that the resident and visiting merchants transact enough business there to support comfortably a city the size of Terre Haute, Indiana, or Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The building's post office is the fifth largest of Chicago's 67 post offices, and its elevators can handle 80,000 persons a day.

The structure has a gross area of 93 acres, which, if spread out over a single flat surface, would cover the entire Chicago Loop. If the sprawling Mart had been built as a skyscraper, it would tower over the 102-story Empire State building by 67 floors. Ripley states that all the people in Chicago could be placed in the Mart at one time—a statement based on the unbelievable assumption that any city of 3 million people would ever agree to do anything at the same time.

Resourceful scoutmasters, beset with a rainy day, have discovered that a walk from the entrance through every corridor and back by the same route, is an indoor 15-mile hike.

Erection of the building required workmen and materials which would stagger the imagination of the pioneers who built the first trading post of logs and stuffed the cracks with moss and clay. Over 150 million pounds of steel, granite, and terra cotta, 12 million feet of pipes and wire, 20 million bricks, 40 thousand light fixtures, 70 thousand sprinkler heads, and 5 million feet of lumber were used to complete the structure which covers two entire city blocks.

The maintenance cost of the building comes to a figure resembling mileages between stars. As much as 225 tons of coal has been used in a single day. The Mart yearly swallows up 30,000 gallons of oil paint and a carload of water-soluble paint mix. Maintenance and housekeeping keep a small army busy 24 hours a day.

Even the Soviet Union has not claimed to have a building as big as Chicago's "limestone tepee." There was much ballyhoo in the Communist Press about their "Palace of the Soviets" which reportedly rises above our Empire State building, but the Russian journalists prudently avoided any comparisons with the monstrous Mart.

Captured Enemy Weapons Can Be Source of Danger

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA—Marines take a lively professional interest in captured enemy weapons—but it can be embarrassing too.

One day in a Korean field, a young Leatherneck was admiring a damaged artillery piece which enemy troops had abandoned.

He failed to notice until too late that a flight of Marine Corsairs was approaching.

Suddenly one of the planes peeled off; the sharp-eyed pilot had noticed the enemy weapon.

He probably will never know that the man he chased across the field was a fellow-Marine.

The young infantryman literally ran for his life. The plane's machine guns spat fire—and its rockets knocked him spinning, his clothes stripped off by the concussion.

The infantryman picked himself up and walked off—a much wiser Marine.

Project Residents Solve Problem; Create Another

CINCINNATI—Residents of a government housing project here used their collective noggins to solve an imposing rat and mouse problem, but now find themselves in another predicament.

When winter arrived the rats and mice invaded the housing project in numbers, scampering up and down, under the floors and over the rafters.

The project manager was afraid to put out poison because of the many children. So everyone bought cats.

Now the rats and mice are gone—but the cats! The management says too many cats, and orders owners to get rid of them.

Many people are wondering when the Congress will recess. From the present outlook it is difficult to see how we could recess prior to September and the chances are that it will not be before sometime in October. There was some talk on the House Floor about a short recess the first week of July. However, the House stayed in continuous session all week, including the 4th of July. The session on the Fourth was devoted to a reading of the Declaration of Independence and paying tribute to those great patriots who were responsible for this great forward step in the freedom of man. Representative John Rankin of Mississippi suggested on the Floor that the Congress should re-adopt the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution and that the country should get back to the principles therein voiced. One Washington columnist wrote at length about the statement. In doing so he made especial mention about the "equality of man" and criticized Mr. Rankin, insinuating that Mr. Rankin is a "white supremacy" advocate. The columnist's remarks brought to my mind a transaction that took place on the Floor the other day concerning an all-negro veterans' hospital. The Veterans' Affairs Committee, of which Mr. Rankin is Chairman, had approved a bill creating an all-negro veterans' hospital at a cost of five million dollars to meet the needs of negro veterans that were not being adequately cared for. The hospital was to be staffed by negro doctors and negro nurses. When this bill came to the Floor it was openly attacked by the two negro congressmen on the grounds of racial segregation. These two negro congressmen were joined by a group of ultra-liberal Democrats, ultra-liberal Republicans and a majority of the old line Republicans from the North and East. The bill was supported by a block of Southern and Southwestern Jeffersonian Democrats. The coalition of old line Republicans from the North and East, the ultra-liberal Republicans, the ultra-liberal Democrats and the two negro congressmen was sufficient to defeat the bill. It was openly admitted by all that there was a great need for the hospital and that the negro veterans were in sad circumstances unless adequate facilities could be supplied. It was argued, however, by the coalition on both sides of the Aisle that if the use of the hospital was to be limited to negro patients and negro doctors and nurses, it would be a segregated hospital and that they did not want it under those circumstances. The race issue flared openly on the Floor and was without doubt the sole reason that the bill was defeated. I tell you people this so that you may have some idea of what could happen if the FEPC and the Civil Rights legislation should ever reach the Floor of the House. Frankly, the Republicans would be afraid to vote against the FEPC and the civil rights legislation for political reasons, and don't let yourself think otherwise. If that type of legislation is to be stopped, it will be stopped by Southern and Southwestern Jeffersonian Democrats.

STATE DEPARTMENT: The fight for a complete cleansing of the State Department is continuing and is getting results, but it is not proceeding fast enough to suit me. Over a year ago I told the people that I thought Mr. Acheson should resign. I have not changed that position nor my opinion. We hope that within the next several weeks Congress will have an opportunity to speed up this cleansing process when the bills on appropriations and other matters concerning the State Department are brought to the Floor.

DEFENSE PRODUCTION ACT: We have received much mail concerning controls and inflation. The big question is "What is the proper procedure to curtail inflation?" If economic controls are the answer, my position is that these should be on a temporary basis, should be fair and equitable to all, and should remain under the constant control and vigilance of Congress. The controls themselves are not the great danger if they are handled in the above manner. The great danger in controls is the administration of the controls, and I am not willing to place the economy of this country in the hands of a few egotistical bureaucrats with the power to discriminate and to indulge in decisions based upon bias and prejudice. We are at present in general debate on the Defense Production Act and will begin the discussion of amendments next week. It is my opinion that if a defense production act is passed, it will retain in the Congress the powers that have heretofore been delegated to bureaucrats. Unless this is done, we would be better off without controls.

TAXES: The increase in Federal taxes was for defense purposes. Had this not been the case, the tax bill could not have passed. If this country is going to sustain a standing army and provide proper equipment, supplies and materials, it is going to cost money. I have a large number of letters in my office from men who are in the service. They are complaining about the pay situation with which they are faced. Their allotments are not sufficient to take care of their wives and children and many of these boys are sending home the small amount that they are able to retain out of their pay. These boys do not get paid on an hourly basis and they don't get paid time and a half for overtime. They are rendering a great service to mankind and humanity and it would be unfair and dishonest to require their dependents to live in poverty and squalor while these boys are serving their country. It would be criminal for the civilian population of this country to fail to provide these boys with the necessary guns, ammunition, food, material, supplies, clothing, etc., while they are a part of the force that will be the deciding factor in our ultimate protection.

U. S. POPULATION

The total population of the United States, including troops abroad, passed 154,000,000 in June, according to the Census Bureau, which estimates that it may reach 155,000,000 by the year's end. The last previous official estimate was 153,000,000 as of last May 1, as compared with 151,132,000 for April 1, 1950.

TAX RETURNS

The Internal Revenue Bureau declares that American taxpayers make mistakes of $2 or more on one out of each four individual income-tax returns filed — and in nine cases out of ten, the taxpayer's mistake is in his own favor, not the Government's. Most errors consist of incorrect statements of income, personal deduction and exemptions for dependents.

GOOD OLD DAYS

The average citizen doesn't necessarily ask for a Utopia — he'd settle for the good old days when taxes meant nothing more than an annual payment on the ancestral home.

Game officials have two factors in mind when they fix open seasons and bag limits: the desires of hunters and the conservation of game. Sometimes the two interests are opposite: the hunter may not like to be deprived of his sport during the specified closed season.

If he takes the long view, however, he must realize that without limitations wildlife will suffer and many species will disappear.

Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission, will tell you that his job is to see that game is "harvested" so as to provide the most possible sport, while at the same time keeping wildlife in good balance.

Many sportsmen believe, for example, that there is now imperfect balance with respect to deer.

They say that Texas should not permit hunters to kill two bucks per season. Most other states allow the killing of only one buck per season.

Some sportsmen believe that killing of does should be legalized because there is now a lack of balance between the sexes, and there should be proportionately fewer females.

Right now, game officials are trying to set the ideal shooting season for doves in Texas. Dates are recommended by the state game department, but are finally fixed by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

The decision rests with federal people because doves migrate among states.

Texas asked for a later season in the South Zone — November 15 to January 1 — because hunters in the southern part of Texas complained that doves do not appear there in large numbers before that time.

Part of the problem in setting the open season on doves is that of nesting: if the season opens too early, parent birds may be killed while the young are still dependent upon them.

Still another consideration is weather. For example, if there is a late Fall, birds will be tardy in migrating southward.

With all these things to think about, the game department people keep their brows pretty well furrowed most of the time.

Incidentally, hunting and fishing comprise a big business in Texas. Somebody with a head for figures estimated that every deer killed costs the hunter $115. That's for travel, equipment, hunting license, food — all the expenses of the trip.

There are 300,000 hunters in Texas who have the overall license which costs $2.15 and authorizes the holder to shoot all game animals except antelope. Antelope hunters must pay an additional $5 license.

In addition to the hunters with licenses, there are thousands of others who hunt legally without a license in their own counties. No license is required of persons under 17 years of age.

All of the expenses of the Texas Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission come from hunting and fishing licenses and from sale of state-owned land and gravel.

SCHOOLS CLOSE, OPEN

Mount Clemens, Mich. — Hardly were the school children in fifteen small Macomb county schools out of school when they were notified to report for one to five days' more learning each. Their school boards were notified that unless a full 180 days of school were offered, State aid funds would be withheld next year. Some of the school years had run 175 or 179 days.

TRAFFIC TOLL

"Madam, you are the wife of this prisoner?"

"Yes."

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?"

"Yes."

"May I ask how you came to marry such an individual?"

"You may," snapped the witness.

"You see, I was getting old and had to choose between a burglar and a lawyer."

DEFENSE SPENDING

The Defense Department reports that most of the $34,600,000,000 appropriated for the fiscal year, which ended on June 30th, went for major equipment, supplies, construction and production expansion and that most of that, $23,800,000,000, went for "hardware," such as planes, ships, tanks, weapons and other combat tools. "Housekeeping" — clothing, food and fuel, — accounted for $3,500,000,000, and the remainder — $23,000,000,000 — went for military construction and expansion.

GI SCHOOL DEADLINE

The Veterans Administration is warning veterans that the deadline for starting training under the Government's educational bill is July 25th. This date applies to veterans who were discharged before July 25, 1947, which constitute the vast majority. Veterans discharged after that date may begin training within four years of the completion of their service. A veteran must be in training by July 25 — an application to take training filed before that time is not sufficient.

News Wrecked Behind Iron Curtain Sector

The Iron Curtain countries have totally destroyed anything even remotely resembling a free press within their own borders. Now they are trying to make certain that no news concerning them, save for official government handouts, reaches the rest of the world.

That is about the only logical deduction that can be drawn from Czechoslovakia's conviction of William N. Oatis, an American and an Associated Press correspondent, on charges of "spying out state secrets" and reporting "slanders and lies," and his sentencing to 10 years in prison.

So far as can be ascertained, Mr. Oatis' "crime" consisted of trying to do his job properly. He did what every good reporter in every free country does every day—that is, he sought and reported the news. As is customary with every press service, his superiors in the AP organization gave him assignments and he did his best to carry them out. These assignments were in no way unusual, and none of them could be considered "spying" as that word is understood in the Western world. But in the Communist world, "spying" means anything which displeases the heads of state. The laws are so drawn that anyone, citizen or foreigner, can be severely punished for saying and writing things which wouldn't cause an eyebrow to be lifted elsewhere.

Mr. Oatis' ordeal followed the usual pattern. He was held incommunicado for 70 days. He was not allowed to contact his friends or American officials. The State Department has formally charged that his so-called confession was prepared by the Czech secret police, and that he rehearsed it under police direction. This confession, the State Department added, was only "the admission of an American reporter that in the high traditions of his profession he was attempting under the most unfavorable conditions to report a true picture of conditions and events in Czechoslovakia as he saw them." It said further that Oatis' conviction "shows that the present regime in Czechoslovakia fears truth, hates liberty, and knows no justice."

The Western world has learned something about how confessions of this character are obtained. The victim is subjected to merciless questioning. He is given little food. He is kept awake for days and nights on end. He is alternately threatened and cajoled. He is beaten. The whole idea is to break down the will—to bring the man to a point of mental and physical exhaustion and despair where nothing matters except to escape his tormentors. He will then sign and agree to anything. This happened to Robert Vogeler and others. It undoubtedly happened to Oatis.

What can the government do to protect our newsmen in the Communist nations? Alexander Jones, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, has suggested that, in reprisal for the treatment of Oatis, the trade privileges now given Czechoslovakia in the American zone of Germany be withdrawn. Others think we should go much farther. As an example, the Portland Oregonian said editorially, "If the United States does not get its back up soon, these kidnappings, pseudo trials, extorted confessions and imprisonment of Americans will become chronic. Our government should give immediate study, with a view to action, of the possible effects of making the Iron Curtain a two-way barrier; that is, the withdrawal from outlaw nations of all American nationals and the complete severance of diplomatic relations, plus an airtight ban on all commercial transactions between these countries and the United States." This may seem to be an extreme policy. But, in dealing with Communism, it may prove to be the only feasible one.

POOR ILLUSTRATION
"What is your recreation, my boy?" said a banker to his caddie. "I'm a Methodist, sir." "No, no; that's your belief. I mean, have you any particular sport or hobby? Just as, for example, I myself am a golfer?" "No, that's just your belief, sir," said the boy.

DISAPPOINTED
"Don't be afraid!" said the burglar to the young widow. "I am not after you. I want your money." "Oh, go away," came the petulant reply. "you're just like all the other men!"
